

Emma Lavelle – Track Analysis

Broken down by track in line with the current system rules...

(There is no track I would exclude at the moment because of the small sample size, although she is 0/9 at Cheltenham)

So, Doncaster and Uttoxeter are interesting to my eye.

For the free system you have there is no benefit at the moment for excluding certain tracks as the sample size is not strong enough and actually her poor record at other tracks when looking at all her runners is because maybe her horses are not firing like they are in October and November.

Why do we not back Chasers?

As you can see below, chasers are not profitable to back at SP or BFSP in the long run and therefore I excluded them. She has her fair share of chase winners in November and October but they tend to be over-bet. They may well be profitable to back at BOG prices but at the moment I will be leaving alone. I could never release something that cannot make a profit at SP and BFSP.

Chasers – in line with rest of system rules:-
